✨ Gabby's Halloween Adventure by Denise Gabberdaberdo

The moon was bright, and the pumpkins on every porch glowed with happy, twinkling faces. Gabby wagged her tail and looked at her basket. Tonight was Halloween, and she was ready for trick-or-treating!

She padded down the sidewalk in her bumblebee costume, her wings wiggling with every step. Suddenly—whoosh!—a friendly ghost decoration flapped in the breeze. Gabby giggled, “Nice try, silly ghost! You can’t scare me!”

At the first house, Gabby knocked on the door. “Trick or treat!” she barked cheerfully. A kind witch dropped three candy corn-shaped dog treats into her basket. “Thank you!”

Gabby wagged so hard her wings almost fell off.

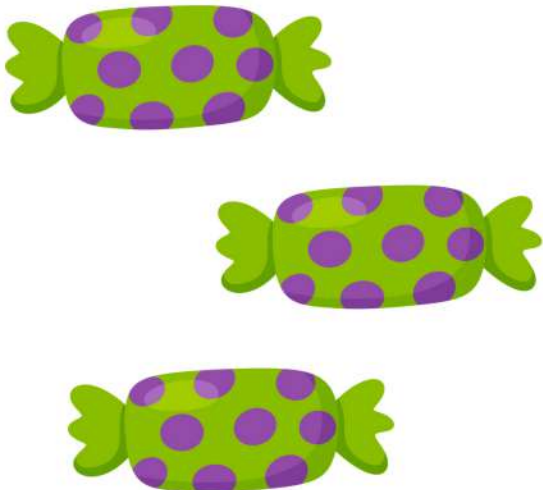

She met her friends along the way—Bell the bluebird in a tiny pirate hat and Tibbs the cat dressed as a pumpkin. Together, they visited house after house, filling their baskets with sweet surprises.

By the end of the night, Gabby’s basket was full, her paws were tired, and her heart was happy. “Halloween is the best,” she yawned. “Treats, costumes, and friends—what more could anyone need?”
