

Gabby's Garden Treasure

Gabby the dog loved playing in the garden. One sunny morning, she sniffed the flowers, chased a butterfly, and wagged her tail at the buzzing bees. Sniff sniff! she went, exploring every corner.

Gabby started digging... then thump! Her paws hit something hard in the soil.

“Hmm... what could it be?” she wondered, her tail wagging like a little flag. She dug a little more... clink, clink! A tiny treasure chest peeked out from the dirt!

Gabby nudged it open with her nose... creak! Inside were shiny acorns, colorful stones, and a tiny note that said, “For the bravest explorer!”

Gabby barked happily—Woof woof!—and ran to show her friends: a chirping bird, a curious bunny, and a little frog. Everyone cheered and clapped with their tiny paws and wings.

“That’s the best treasure ever!” Gabby said, carefully placing each shiny acorn and stone in the garden. From that day on, Gabby knew adventures—and treasures—were everywhere, just waiting to be found.
