

Gabby and the Butterfly Hat

Gabby was playing outside on a sunny morning when she spotted a colorful butterfly fluttering through the garden.

"Wait for me!" laughed Gabby as she gently followed it. The butterfly landed on a bright yellow flower. Gabby sat quietly nearby and watched.

A moment later, the butterfly flew up and landed right on top of Gabby's head!

"Oh my!" barked Gabby. "Now I have a butterfly hat!" The butterfly rested there for a few seconds before fluttering away.

Gabby smiled and wagged her tail.
"Thank you for visiting," she called.

The butterfly danced through the air one last time before disappearing among the flowers.

Gabby spent the rest of the morning looking for other tiny garden friends.
